it would be great if the app could be developed asap.

Guys I think Waqas and Utkarsh are very sexy and you should accept whatever their proposal is.

Potential bottleneck: course availability is sometimes updated biyearly, you never know what is removed until that year. So even if a Year 1 planned a course to take in year 3, the professor may not offer that course that year, or have retired. So take into account for this professor/course availability is important

Perhaps a risk indicator

Once you have enough data from students using your app, create a Review Indicator with positive/negative scale -- that would be useful

Common Core function also important but challenging due to constant changes

Hku portal has launched a degree audit system that shows your progress (in terms of credits requirements) for your majors, minor and graduation (even the UG5 req), so it would be redundant to have another app that does that. But one that gives reviews of professors and courses would be good

Good stuff Waqas/utkarsh. Maybe I wish to know more. Depending on how much I study this Chinese New year.

Allow for a personalized time table to be created by the student after taking advice from the app.

Pls bundle with timetabling software, schedule planning is hell

Sensible reviews for courses.
